All these offices shall be honorary and without remuneration. Council shall meet at least three times each year (normally in January, May, and September). The term of office of all trustees shall be according to the calendar year, beginning on 1 January of the year immediately following their election (except as indicated for the president-elect).

President, Vice-Presidents, Honorary Treasurer

- i. The president shall serve for three years. One year before the expected final retirement of the current president, a president-elect shall be elected from the members of the association nominated by the Council. The president-elect shall assist the president but shall not be a trustee (unless already a trustee) until becoming president in the following year. In the event of the death or incapacity of the president or of his or her becoming disqualified under the provisions of the articles, the president-elect shall take office as president and trustee immediately, or if no president-elect has yet been elected the Council shall elect one of the vice-presidents to act as president until the next Annual General Meeting. A president may stand for re-election for no more than one additional term, which may immediately follow the first term; such re-election should be contested in the same way as a first election. The immediate past president remains a trustee of the association.
- ii. Vice-Presidents may be elected at the Annual General Meeting from the members of the Association nominated by Council, but there shall not be more

Vice-Presidents shall be persons of established standing both in the study of the art and science of music and in the governance of the Association. Ordinary Members of Council

- i. Ordinary Members of Council, who must be members of the Association, shall be elected at each Annual General Meeting to fill vacancies arising. Nomination for Ordinary Members of Council must be proposed and seconded in writing, together with the written consent of the member nominated, to the Executive Officer not later than one week before the meeting of Council immediately preceding the Annual General Meeting. If the number of nominations exceeds the number of vacancies the Executive Officer shall arrange a postal ballot of all members in good standing at the date of communicating the agenda for the Annual General Meeting.

One position among the Ordinary Members of Council shall be reserved for an early-career researcher, defined as someone who shall have received their final academic degree no more than five years before beginning their term on 1 January immediately following election (allowing for recognized career interruptions). This position shall be balloted separately in years in which it is becoming vacant.
